

Birch

There are two types of Birch trees in our school.
This one is the downy birch:
a delicate tree with fine branches
and small leaves.

The springtime flowers are called Catkins which produce a lot of tiny seeds. Birds and insects love to eat these seeds.