

Alder

One of Ireland's most traditional and popular trees, Alders are usually found in damp areas, beside rivers and lakes.

Alder trees have large, dark green, round leaves. They grow long, reddish catkins and small cones that contain the seeds. Many varieties of insects feed on its leaves and flowers.

